International Green Europe Conference: A New Horizon in STE²AM and Entrepreneurship

Under the leadership of Assoc. Prof. Mehmet Başaran and coordinated by Gaziantep University, the international STE²AM project, supported by the European Union (EU) with a budget of €250,000, has been realized with the joint participation of Turkey, Portugal, Greece, Italy, Lithuania, and Spain. The project spans a comprehensive two-year period and aims to enhance entrepreneurship standards in education while offering a higher-quality education model, enriched by contributions from expert researchers in the field.

Within this scope, the Green Europe Conference aims to redefine approaches to STEAM and entrepreneurship by addressing environmental awareness, innovative educational models, and sustainable entrepreneurship opportunities. The conference promises an inspiring program filled with expert-led panels and interactive Q&A sessions, focusing on solutions for reducing carbon footprints and contributing to the vision of a Green Europe.
